

ALL BUT ONE ON BOARD DROWNEDFrench Vessel Wrecked on a Treacherous Reef.

SOLE SURVIVOR IS DELIRIOUS

Unable to Give an Account of the Disaster That Resulted in the Loss of One Hundred and Fifty-six Lives Near the Island of Minorca—Most of the Passengers Were French Officers.

Palma, Island of Majorca, Feb. 12.—Driven helplessly from her course in one of the wildest storms that has swept the Mediterranean sea in forty years the French Transatlantic Steamship company's steamer General Chanzy crashed at full speed in the dead of night on the treacherous reefs near the island of Minorca and all but one of the 157 souls on board perished.

The sole survivor is an Algerian customs official, Marcel Rodet, who was rescued by a fisherman and who lies in the hospital at Ciudadela raving as a result of the tortures through which he passed, and he is unable to give an account of the disaster.

In the ship's company there were eighty-seven passengers, of which thirty were in the first cabin. The crew numbered seventy.

It is not thought that any Americans were aboard. The ship was in command of Captain Cayol, one of the most careful officers of the line. In his long experience he had never before met with an accident. He had intended to retire from the service in the near future.

Passengers Mostly French Officers.

The passengers of the Chanzy were mostly French officers and officials returning to their post in Algeria, accompanied by their wives and children; a few soldiers, some Italians and Turks and one priest. The only Anglo-Saxon names on the passenger lists were Green and Stakely. They were members of an opera troupe of eleven which had been engaged to sing at the Casino in Algiers.

The General Chanzy sailed from Marseilles Wednesday at noon and was due to arrive at Algiers Thursday afternoon.

The Chanzy is a total wreck. Steamers have been dispatched from Spain and from points in the Balearic islands to the scene of the catastrophe.

Among the victims was the celebrated Parisian music hall singer, Francis Dufour, as well as other music hall favorites.

The General Chanzy struck after almost unopposed violence. Other ships in the neighborhood had safely ridden out the storm, but the Chanzy was lifted off her course through the Balearic archipelago and brought up on the coast of Minorca, in the vicinity of Ciudadela.

Fishermen at daybreak picked up Rodet clinging to a piece of wreckage.

BY ERUPTION OF VOLCANO

Eighty Persons Reported to Have Been Killed.

Port Limon, Costa Rica, Feb. 12.—Eighty persons were killed by the eruption of volcano Poas, according to reports received here, which say that the eruption, the worst in the history of the mountain, has ceased. Two deaths were caused by stones shot out from the crater, many of which weighed more than 2,500 pounds. They fell among the villages within a radius of several miles from the base of the mountain.

Scientists here and at Cape San Jose see in the eruption forecasts of serious earthquakes in Central America and Panama.

Warnings are being prepared to be sent to Washington, urging the strengthening of the canal in its most vulnerable places.

Court of Patent Appeals.

Washington, Feb. 12.—The outlook for the establishment by congress of a court of patent appeals is believed to be brighter at this time than ever before. The house committee having the bill in charge seems disposed to make a favorable report on it soon, and if it does, there would appear to be no serious difficulties in the way of reaching a vote in that body on final passage. In the senate, the bill will not have much trouble, it is believed.

Killed by Dynamite.

Bemidji, Minn., Feb. 12.—Victor Peterson, aged twenty-eight, an employee of the contracting firm of Smith & Leese, was blown twenty feet in the air by a dynamite explosion and sustained injuries from the effects of which he died while being hurried to a hospital from the scene of the accident, near the Nelson dam, north of Solway.

DICKINSON REJECTS OFFER

Turns Down Proposal of a Baltimore Syndicate.

Washington, Feb. 12.—Because an independent steamship line to the isthmus of Panama on the Pacific coast would enter into competition with transcontinental railroads was given as a reason for the rejection by Secretary of War Dickinson of an offer made to the government by a syndicate of Baltimore.

The details of the offer were given to the senate committee on interoceanic canals by B. N. Baker, former president of a Baltimore line, in the hearing of the Flint-McLachlan bill for the establishment of a government-owned line on the west coast.

Mr. Baker said that when the Pacific Mail Steamship company gave notice that it would insist upon receiving 70 per cent of the joint rate on business via the isthmus, instead of the 50 per cent it had received for a number of years, that he offered to put on a line, if he was given a mail contract similar to those given to other lines. Such a line as he proposed to establish, said Mr. Baker, would have connected with the government vessels between New York and Colon.

"Why was your offer rejected?" asked Senator Bristow.

Mr. Baker replied that the secretary of war was of the opinion that he had no jurisdiction in the matter.

"The whole thing here is that the United States does not intend to do anything that would hurt the transcontinental railroads," ejaculated Mr. Bristow.

Tuberculosis Camp Selected.

Custer, S. D., Feb. 12.—A committee from the state board of charities and corrections has selected a site for the tuberculosis sanatorium, a beautiful spot four miles from here in the midst of a group of pine trees, and an abundance of spring water. Work on the building will begin in April; it is expected patients will be received in the early summer.

New York, Feb. 12.—Because he neglected to take out citizenship papers Michael Winkowski, a Polish resident of Chicago for the past ten years, has to choose between losing his wife by deportation or disposing of the property he had accumulated as an industrious mechanic and following her back to the old country.

CHARLES MERRITT IN PRISON

Violated Law Prohibiting Purchase of Issue Stock.

Sioux Falls, S. D., Feb. 12.—Charles W. Merritt, a former meat market man of Lamro, who is serving a term of six months in the Minnehaha county jail under sentence of United States court, and who in addition was fined $500, is the first man to be convicted in South Dakota under a federal statute which prohibits Indians selling issue stock or their increase to white men without a written permit from the United States Indian agent.

This practice of selling stock which had been issued to them by the government, with the object of encouraging the Indians to become self-supporting, had become general in many sections and the strong arm of the government was necessary to put a stop to it and protect the Indians.

Thousands of head of stock have been issued to the Indians of South Dakota the past few years. This stock is branded "I. D." by the government before being turned over to the Indians, and in cases where the Indians evade the vigilance of the government employes on their reservations and sell the stock to the white men the hides are readily identified.

On Merritt's premises were found eight hides bearing the "I. D." brand, but he was arrested and convicted for having in his possession two "I. D." hides which were found in his wagon.

The animals are worth $35 each on an average, and it was found that the Indians sold them for an average of about $20 a head.

New Haven, Conn., Feb. 12.—A gift of $100,000 to Yale university by Alfred G. Vanderbilt of New York has been made known.

ROOT AMENDMENT TO
SAVINGS BANK BILL

Believed to Imperil Passage of Such Legislation.

Washington, Feb. 12.—Senator Root of New York has drafted an amendment to the postal savings bank bill which is believed to imperil the passage of any kind of postal savings legislation at the present session of congress. It provides, in effect, that the deposits of the postal savings banks, instead of being deposited by the government in local banks nearest the postoffices in which the savings are accumulated, shall be invested in government bonds.

This amendment is relied on by the Aldrich forces in the senate, it is understood, to accomplish one of two things, either of which will be satisfactory to Senator Aldrich. Either it will result in the defeat of the bill or it will fit into the Aldrich plans for the creation of a central bank and aid the Rhode Island senator in overcoming one of the greatest objections to his central bank scheme.

The Aldrich bank plan contemplates the issuance of notes by the central institution that are not based on government bonds. This would result in the release of about $700,000,000 of government bonds now on deposit to guarantee national bank notes.

If the deposits in the proposed postal savings banks can be invested in government bonds, instead of loaned to local banks, the bonds that would be released through the creation of the central bank as projected would be readily taken care of and would not be thrown on the market with a prospect of lowering materially their price or value.

However, it is believed that the Root amendment, if offered, will precipitate such a bitter fight that there will be little chance of the passage of the bill in another form. Practically all the senators west of the Allegheny mountains, who are not opposed to a postal savings bank of any kind, are determined that the deposits shall not be transferred from the immediate communities in which they originate.

AGAINST FORMER ACTRESS

Brooklyn Woman Obtains Verdict for Heavy Damages.

New York, Feb. 12.—A verdict of $75,000, said to be the largest ever rendered in an alienation suit, was awarded to Mrs. Charles C. Hendrick of Brooklyn against Laura Biggar, the former actress, accused of alienating the affections of Mrs. Hendrick's divorced husband, Dr. Charles C. Hendrick. Mrs. Hendrick sued for $100,000.

Neither the defendant, who is said to be in California, nor Dr. Hendrick appeared at the trial, but were represented by counsel. Both were indicted several years ago for conspiracy in connection with the sensational contest to win control of the $1,000,000 estate of Henry M. Bennett, a Pittsburgh theatrical manager. Laura Biggar was acquitted and Dr. Hendrick convicted, but he later secured a new trial and was freed.

Mrs. Hendrick then secured a divorce, naming Laura Biggar as co-respondent, and later brought the alienation suit just decided.

BILL PRESENTED TO THE HOUSE

Carries Big Sum for Improvement of the Mississippi.

APPROPRIATIONS AND SURVEYS

Include Half a Million Dollars for the Duluth and Superior Harbor and Smaller Sums for Grand Marais, Agate Bay, the Minnesota River and the Red River of the North—Six-Foot Channel From St. Paul to St. Louis.

Washington, Feb. 12.—The rivers and harbors appropriation bill, presented from the committee, carries the following appropriations and surveys:

Minnesota—Grand Marais, $2,000; Agate Bay, $2,000; Duluth and Superior, $500,000; Minnesota river, $2,200; Red river of the North, $7,500.

Surveys—Harbor at Knife river; Rainey river, to remove obstructions in the channel at Rainey; Mississippi river, to remove ledge in Aitkin county, at Pine Knoll; harbor and channel at St. Paul; St. Croix river at Afton; Mississippi river, between Winnibigishish and Pokegama reservoirs, and from Leech lake dam to the mouth of Leech river, to straighten and improve the channel.

There is an appropriation of $500,000 for securing and maintaining a six-foot channel in the Mississippi river from the mouth of the Missouri to St. Paul. For this improvement $500,000 will be carried in another appropriation bill.

Provided for Permanent Channel.

The river and harbor act of March 3, 1907, for the improvement of the Mississippi river between the Missouri river and St. Paul, provided for a permanent channel six feet deep and 300 to 1,400 feet wide, at a cost of $20,000,000, and an appropriation was made of $500,000, with a continuing contract for $1,000,000, of which $500,000 was to be expended during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1910, and $500,000 during the year ending June 30, 1911. At this rate it would take forty years to complete the project. Engineers estimate, however, that with the existing plant sufficiently increased from $1,500,000 to $2,000,000 can be profitably expended each year, thus reducing the time of completion to twelve years.

The purpose of the committee in proposing an appropriation of $500,000 additional to the $500,000 carried in the sundry civil bill is to enable the engineers to increase the plant, so that the project, if it is desired, can be completed in twelve years.

The bill, as a whole carries $42,355,276, of which $7,206,430 is for continuing contracts. The bill will be called up in the house Monday in an effort to press the measure to passage.

The $7,000,000 odd outside the cash appropriations is for expenditures which may hereafter be made under the continuing contract system. The bill is theoretically an annual budget, although no regular rivers and harbors bill has been reported since that approved March 2, 1907.

STEPSON HELD ON SUSPICION

Believed He Knows More Than He Has Told of Stepfather's Death.

Duluth, Feb. 12.—George Booker, thirty-five years old, a teamster, was arrested on suspicion of having murdered his stepfather, Charles Clark, sixty-five years old, who died in a sleigh on the way to Duluth from French River Wednesday.

Extremely suspicious circumstances surround the old man's death, and the authorities are satisfied Booker knows more about it than he has yet told. The investigation is being pushed, and plans were made to visit the scene of Clark's death.

Clark died while being hauled to Duluth in a sleigh by Booker. The post-mortem examination at the undertaker's rooms showed he had six broken ribs and a fractured breast bone, with one rib penetrating the lining of his lungs. The physicians who performed the autopsy say the man could have lived twenty hours with such injuries. The right chest was clothed with blood which also had hindered the heart action.

Booker took his arrest coolly. He told the police and others who talked to him that Clark's death must have been the result of an accident. He declared while standing before a fire which they had built at French River to keep warm, Clark suddenly complained of being ill. He said as he spoke he toppled across the fire and onto some bed springs which were lying on the other side. Booker said the wooden sides of the springs were lengthwise, and Clark's chest struck on the boards.

The physicians said Clark could either have met his death through an accident, or his injuries might have been the result of a severe kicking.

Minnesota Man Killed.

Laporte, Ind., Feb. 12.—J. L. Tarnaski of Willow River, Minn., identified by papers found in his clothing, either fell or was thrown from a Lake Shore train near Otis, this county, receiving injuries which caused his death an hour after he was found lying beside the track in an unconscious condition.

PAYS TRIBUTE TO LINCOLN

Nation Commemorates Birthday of Martyred President.

St. Paul, Feb. 12.—One hundred and one years ago today, in the rudest sort of a cabin near what is now Hodgenville, La Rue county, Kentucky, Abraham Lincoln was born. Today his birth is being commemorated in city, town and village throughout the country.

The principal event in St. Paul was the Lincoln club banquet at the Ryan hotel. Governor Eberhart delivered a Lincoln oration, while the other speakers were Attorney General Simpson, State Treasurer Dinehart, Secretary of State Schmah and James Denegre.

A Lincoln celebration was held at the old capital by the Sons of Veterans, to which were invited the members of Acker and Garfield posts, G. A. R., the woman's auxiliaries and Spanish-American war veterans. Judge John W. Willis was the principal orator.

SALE OF IT IS PROHIBITED

Any Liquor Made From Malted Grain by Fermenting Process.

Des Moines, Ia., Feb. 12.—Liquor manufactured from malted grain by a process involving fermentation and irrespective of the amount of alcohol it actually contains, and also without regard to whether it is in fact intoxicating, is within the statutory description of liquors, the sale of which is prohibited. In the case of Angela Botti of Sioux City, who sold a beer at a soda fountain and was enjoined for doing it, the supreme court of Iowa handed down the foregoing definition. Attorneys for Botti declared the statute related only to the sale of intoxicating liquors.

WILL INVESTIGATE THE SWOPE MYSTERY

Grand Jury to at Once Examine Witnesses.

Kansas City, Feb. 12.—The grand jury summoned to investigate the Swope mystery will begin the examination of witnesses at once.

If an indictment is returned against any one in connection with the deaths, the case against Dr. B. C. Hyde, now pending in the court of Justice W. L. Loe in Independence, will be dismissed.

The grand jury summoned by order of Judge Ralph S. Lathaw consists of prominent men.

When the grand jury is dismissed the entire Swope affair will have been fully investigated. The death of Colonel Thomas H. Swope will receive first attention. The inquisitorial body will then take up the death of Chrisman Swope.

Dr. Hyde was about the city as usual, seemingly unperturbed after his arrest on the charge of murdering his wife's uncle. He says he is glad a grand jury has been called, for he believes the more the case is left to the investigation of disinterested parties, the more publicity it is given, the sooner he will be cleared of suspicion. But Dr. Hyde will keep his own counsel until he is placed on trial.

"We are not ready to talk yet," said Frank P. Walsh, the physician's attorney. "Dr. Hyde will not tell his story until he tells it to the jury that tries him for his life, if ever he is tried. Then he will explain everything and knock the props out from under all the charges."

Nothing was accomplished by attorneys who planned to take the deposition of Attorney John G. Paxton in a slander suit for $100,000 that Dr. Hyde has brought against him.

To Regulate Cattle Train Speed.

Washington, Feb. 12.—The house committee on interstate and foreign commerce held hearings on a bill proposing to amend the law requiring the feeding of livestock in transit from the ranges to the markets once in every twenty-eight hours. It is proposed to require roads to run cattle trains at a speed of not less than sixteen miles an hour, and there is a good prospect that the bill will be acted upon favorably.

Dr. Storms Resigns.

Des Moines, Ia., Feb. 12.—It has become definitely known that the resignation of Dr. A. B. At the same time there is a well defined rumor that President MacLean of Iowa university is about to resign. This is generally believed by those in close touch with the situation.

"THEM WAS ME ORDERS."

How Pat Diskin Came to Grief While Sawing a Beam.

Patrick Diskin, a carpenter employed on a new building at Beekman avenue and Oak terrace, the Bronx, New York, was told the other day to go to the fifth story and saw off a wooden beam which protruded from a window over the street.

He went up, got out on the end of the beam and carefully sawed it in two between himself and the window. He and the end of the beam fell together to the pavement. Neither was hurt much. The beam was a little bruised on one corner, and Patrick got a slight scalp wound.

He was taken to the Lebanon hospital merely as a matter of precaution, but the doctors there couldn't find any other injuries he had sustained. When asked why he had done such a thing he replied in some heat:

"Sure, them was me orders."

GOLDWIN SMITH, THE AUTHOR

Anecdotes About Canada's Grand Old Man and Famous Historian.

Goldwin Smith, the famous historian, essayist, economist and Canada's "grand old man," who recently fell and broke his hip at his home, the Grange, in Toronto, Canada, was born at Reading, England, Aug. 23, 1823. He was educated at Eton and at Oxford, gained two scholarships and various prizes and was called to the English bar in 1847. He was regius professor of modern history at Oxford from 1858 to 1866 and later honorary professor of English and constitutional history at Cornell university. Dr. Smith has written many books on economics and history. His works are read throughout the world.

Dr. Smith's friends say that absolute fearlessness, mental and physical, has been his most pronounced characteristic. Once, when traveling from the far northwest through Minnesota to Toronto, he was annoyed by a bad man, who strutted up and down the car with two big pistols in his belt, defying everybody in sight to mortal combat. Most of the passengers wilted, but Dr. Smith looked the terror over calmly without moving a muscle. The ruffian walked up to him and shouted, "Well, you don't reckon you can lick me, do you?"

"No," replied the old professor, "I don't think I could, but I am quite satisfied that some one should."

The real Goldwin Smith's preference has been to discuss horses and dogs and flowers rather than the destinies of nations. When he posed in his garden on one occasion for a photograph he was more anxious to get his dog properly placed than himself. Being presented with a copy later, he remarked with the enthusiasm of a schoolboy:

"Well, well! At last I have a photograph which shows me and my dog as we are. How delicious it is to be presented just as a man, leaving out all that stuff about a 'scholar' and a 'historian'! It is just a common dog, too—not a blooded animal, but a wail that secured a night's lodging at the Grange and liked the place so much that he has stayed here ever since."

Western Editors Do Not Want
Cannon Re-Elected.

MAJORITY IN NO DISTRICT

And in Several Districts Uncle Joe Has Not a Single Supporter—In Only Four Districts in Seven States Did a Majority of the Republican Scribes Endorse the Aldrich-Cannon Tariff Law—One District in the Central West Favors the Bill.

Chicago, Feb. 12.—The majority of the Republican and independent newspapers in every one of the congressional districts in Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Michigan, Ohio, Wisconsin and Minnesota are opposed to the re-election of Joseph G. Cannon as speaker of the next congress, as determined by a poll conducted by the Chicago Tribune. In no district is he the choice of the majority of the editors' poll. In several districts he has not a single supporter.

In only four congressional districts in the seven states named did a majority of the Republican editors endorse the Aldrich-Cannon law. These four districts are the Third and Fourth of Ohio and the Twelfth of Indiana, which are represented by Democrats. Only one Republican congressman in the Central West, Douglas of the Eleventh Ohio district, finds that a majority of the Republican editors are in favor of his vote on the Aldrich law. Congressman Douglas is supported by the narrow vote of eight to seven Republicans, and the only independent editors who voted on the Tribune's ballot declared against the law.

The Tribune published the vote by states on the speakership and the Aldrich law, giving their opinions as gleaned from the ballots sent to the editors of every newspaper in Ohio and states west.

Only the ballots of the Republicans and independents are counted. A total of nearly 5,000 answers were received. The Tribune presents the analysis of the ballots by congressional districts in the seven states of the Central West.

This question was asked the editors: "Is the Honorable Joseph G. Cannon your choice for speaker of the next congress?"

REBEL TROOPS ADVANCING

Battle Expected to Occur Soon in Nicaragua.

Bluefields, Feb. 12.—Information received here is to the effect that General Mena of the revolutionary forces has taken the main body of his men, including that of General Zoleador, around Santa Clara hill and reached Lamana, which is two days' march from Acayapa and three days' march from General Chamorro, who is at Comalapa.

Officials report that Chamorro's force now consists of 2,000 men.

Chamorro still occupies the strong hill positions in the village of Comalapa, while the main body of the government troops, under General Fernando Rivas, is at Mata, six miles distant.

General Mena contemplates a march near Acayapa, where he would be in the rear of Vasquez and where he contemplates an immediate attack, thereby occupying the attention of this force to prevent it joining Rivas, while Chamorro coincidentally would attack Rivas. News of these battles is expected daily.

MARTIAL LAW NOW PREVAILS

Managua Has Been Placed Under Military Rule.

Managua, Feb. 12.—The steamer Managua, which was forcibly taken at her wharf by a group of thirty young men of the Conservative party, was recaptured at San Ramon on the northern shore of Lake Managua, according to an announcement by the government. She had been abandoned by the captors. The body of her commander, Captain Toruno, was found aboard.

Washington, Feb. 12.—Additional dispatches, received by the state department, state that martial law prevails in Managua. The published reports of the recent successes of the revolutionary army in the capture of Matagalpa and Boaco are confirmed.

One of my latest additions is this curious specimen. It is on a brass in the church of Llangattockknigh-Usk, Monmouth, to the memory of Zirophe-niza, daughter of William Mathew. She died in 1625. Candy and Courting.

"Behind a candy counter is a great place to see things," said an observing young woman who sells sweets in a downtown store. "That man who just went out used to buy a big box of candy every Wednesday. We know he was engaged by the way he bought. Then he stayed away two weeks. We know that was when he got married. Then he came regularly once every two weeks, but got cheaper candy. Now he comes once in a great while and takes home the 'old fashioned broken' kind. They're all that way, but take a little fresh start when they become interested some time later in chocolate cigarettes."—New York Tribune.

The supreme court in a decision says the McMillan company cannot operate a rendering plant at Pickering lake, near St. Paul, on account of its being a menace to public health.

The city council of Cass Lake has been petitioned by fifty citizens and tax payers to grant an election to see whether liquor shall be sold in that town. The saloon business seems to be a burning issue just now in the northern part of Minnesota.

The annual meeting of the county commissioners association of North Dakota passed a resolution asking that the next legislature prepare an amendment to the constitution limiting the right of suffrage to those citizens who have paid their taxes. The idea that the right to vote on certain matters should be extended to those who have taxes to pay is not a new one, and now the suggestion that it be made applicable to the ones who meet this obligation seems to be in line with good government.

The first issue of the Deerwood Enterprise has been received and it gives promise of filling the newspaper want of the village in which it is published. The publication succeeds the Cuyuna Range News in that it will occupy the same field as that of the defunct paper, although not allowed to make use of the subscription list of the former. The News died a natural death from lack of attention and nourishment on the part of the owner, an evil which the proprietor of the new paper says will be remedied. There will not be a fortune in a newspaper venture at Deerwood, but under good management and attention to details it should be possible to place the business on a paying basis and here's hoping the Enterprise will flourish.

The Japanese commissioners, who recently visited the United States and have just returned to the flowery kingdom, seem to be shocked at the respect that is shown to women in this country, and the good opinion that most of the people of this country have had for the little Japs will be open to revision when it is generally known that we as a nation have been criticised for our extreme respect to the fair sex. There are nine things which the Japanese reported to their countrymen they did not admire in the Americans and the three most prominent were: "Extreme respect for women; pretension of respect paid to ladies; and 'presumptuous attitude of women over men.'" Two of the other objections were "the fact that Americans wear their hearts on their sleeves," and "mingling of boys among girls in schools."

Women's Curiosity in a Shoeshop. "Women are proverbially curious," said the shoe salesman, "but I think they show it more in a shop of this sort than anywhere else. At times it's hard to get a customer's attention, she's so busy watching what the women on either side are buying. And when a sale is completed and a woman walks out with her new boots on, watch the others. Every eye is fixed on the newly clad feet, and if the wearer happens to be smartly dressed there'll be a sudden demand from the others to see for that reason that they are so particular about their shoes in their stockings when they go out. Men don't seem to be so curious."—New York Sun.

Stage Superstitions. An umbrella opened on the stage is supposed to bring bad luck, and many actors would hesitate about wearing new shoes on the first night of a play. The evil effects of new shoes are said, however, to be averted by wearing them on the wrong feet. In fact, any player who makes this mistake in the hurry of dressing regards it as a good omen not to be disturbed. Whistling on the stage during rehearsals is believed to insure a frost on the night of production, and in operatic circles a yellow clarinet in the orchestra is held to bring about the same dire result.

Saved the Dog.

Some time ago there was a shipwreck at St. Margaret's bay, England, and the life line brought sailor after sailor to shore amid the cheers of the rescuers. At last only the captain remained on board. The line was ready, the signal was given, but the answering jerk did not come. Again and again for a quarter of an hour the question passed along the rope without reply. At last, when hope was nearly dead, the signal came, and the captain was hauled dripping ashore. He picked himself up, drew a small, wet, quivering dog from his breast pocket and set it tenderly down. Then he looked round and said in simple apology, "I couldn't find the little brute anywhere."

T LOOKS GOOD FOR BRAINERD

indications All Point to 1910 as the Banner Year in the City's History

S THE SOO AFTER DEPOT SITE tumor so is Revived—Activity in Iron and Building Lines Seems Certain

The indications that the coming year will be the banner one of Brainerd, are becoming more noticeable every day.

Some months ago it was reported, and as strenuously denied, that the Soo line was seeking the Haymarket property on South Fifth street for depot purposes. The rumor is again true and it is declared in support of that numerous parties holding property which would be needed, have been approached in the matter.

It is also stated on good authority that a good find of high grade ore has been made near Crow Wing and that the parties who have the property are prepared to develop the same. It is also reported that some good mining leases are being made on lands inside the city limits of Brainerd. These matters are being kept quiet as possible until the deals are consummated, but enough has leaked out to justify the greatest optimism.

It is practically certain that four brick blocks, one two-story and the others three-story will be erected this summer. There is a possibility of still another being built. The formal announcement of these buildings has not been made but will probably be forthcoming in a short time.

These, in addition to the Northern Pacific's new foundry and the federal building, which it is confidently expected will be erected the coming summer, will make Brainerd busy long building lines.

Vacant lots are changing hands rapidly and it is thought that there will be much activity in residence property the coming summer.

One of the best financiers of Brainerd, stated a few months ago that if he was sure just when Brainerd's boom would come he would borrow every dollar he could to put into Brainerd real estate. He has since proven his faith by several heavy purchases of city property and it is understood will add many thousands to his Brainerd investments the coming summer.

From the Independent:—

Mr. and Mrs. William Hense and family, of Brainerd, spent Sunday at the home of his brother, Frank Hense.

Bullock Bros., the drill men, have just completed six wells at Cuyuna or the mining company. The average depth was from 150 to 175 feet and a good flow of water was obtained in all of them. They will now return to iron exploration work and he plan is to start in on the north side of the river from the Rabbit Lake mine.

A Soo freight came over the Cuyuna division Saturday afternoon with 10 cars of freight and machinery for the mine. While no regular service is attempted the company has a contract to move in 120 cars of mining equipment before the frost goes out of the ground. After that time the work of ballasting will be commenced and no attempt will be made to get over the track only as the ballasting is completed. The Saturday train also picked up the steam shovel at the east end of town and moved it down to the west end where it will be put to work with two other machines on the Crosby and Deerwood extensions.

A Nice, Cheerful Companion.

"I am an advocate of hunting for women," said a titled Englishman. "Women's mounts enliven the field. But no huntress should ever take advantage of her sex. That is most annoying. For instance:—

"A friend of mine on a cold, gray morning in January was dashed into by a woman on the edge of a stream. His horse slipped, and horse and rider together rolled down the bank and were submerged in six feet of icy water. But the lady came off better. She only lost her hat in the brook.

"As my friend, shivering, gasping and dripping, crept out the lady said:—

"Oh, I'm so sorry I bumped you! And now would you mind going in again for my hat?"

We Still Insist that This is the Best Clover Seed Country in the World, Bro. Silk

By saying "this is the best clover seed country" of course we include Cass county, which has already made a demonstration, and which The Dispatch reporter inadvertently appropriated for a Crow Wing county product, as Mr. Hallett, the man behind the clover seed, hails from Pequot, this county, while he actually farms just over the line in the county adjoining. The Little Falls Herald now wants to get in on the honor for Morrison county, inasmuch as we all live in the neck-of-the-woods where the "best clover in the United States" is raised, and we are willing if Bro. Silk is. The Herald says: "Crow Wing and Cass county papers are both claiming the honor for their county of being the home of the clover which took first prize at the Omaha National Corn exposition. As the farm in question is near the line between the two counties, and as good a quality can be raised in several counties in this territory, Morrison especially, we can all take pride in the fact that we raise the 'best clover in the United States.'" Mr. Hallett, however, who raises the prize winner, is to be commended in being enterprising enough to show the country what we can produce in this neck of the woods."

W. E. Richardson and Geo. W. Buck, of Duluth, Past Eminent Grand Commanders of the Grand Commandery, of Minnesota, Knights Templar, arrived in the city from Duluth today to inspect Ascalon Commandery, No. 16, of this city. Because of the fact that the commandery has no hall and that the uniforms of the members were destroyed in the Columbian block fire last October and that all have not yet secured others, it was not possible to have a formal drill, but the books of the commandery were inspected. The gentlemen returned to Duluth on the afternoon train.

IT IS A CRIME TO SHIP HAY

G. G. Hartley, of Duluth, Declares That All Hay Should be Fed on the Farm

PREDICTS GREAT IRON FUTURE

Says, However, That the Best Thing Mines Can Do Will be to Furnish Market for Farmers

G. G. Hartley, of Duluth, was in the city last night and up to noon today. Mr. Hartley was an early resident of Brainerd, though he denies having been one of the pioneers. Mr. Hartley, when seen at the Ransford hotel this forenoon, laughingly declared that he was here to keep tab on Senator Alderman, R. J. Hartley and other of the "boys," as well as to look after some business matters.

When asked as to his opinion of the future of the Cuyuna range, Mr. Hartley recalled that three or four years ago he prophesied that the range would be shipping ore about this time. He stated that the new road into the Cuyuna range would have the honor of shipping some very fine ore from the Kennedy mine.

Mr. Hartley then turned from the iron mines to agriculture, which is one of his hobbies and said: "Your people do not want to get so excited over the iron mines that they forget the farmers. One block of farmers' teams on your streets every day is worth more to Brainerd than the Northern Pacific shops." There is no place on earth that will raise better hay than this," he added. A bystander cited the fact that one man shipped 1000 tons of hay this year. "It is a crime to ship hay," he said, "it should be fed here and the fertilizer returned to the land. The man who ships the hay robs the land. If you put the fertilizers back on the farms you can raise anything." "The best things the mines can do for Brainerd will be to give a good market at high prices for all the farm produce the farmers can raise."

As a proof of the profits in farming he cited a man who is a tenant on one of his farms in North Dakota, who this week sold a car load of sheep in St. Paul, receiving $8 a piece for his lambs and $6.25 per head for old ewes.

He went on to state that seven tons of corn fodder can be raised to the acre on any of this soil and that if the farmers would raise stock and return the fertilizer to the soil, they would all make money.

In reply to a remark of an iron man standing by about "stuffing the reporter," Mr. Hartley gave a bit of very good advice. "Let me tell you," he said, "you should always tell the newspaper boys the absolute truth. If there is any reason why you should not wish the facts published, frankly say so, and tell them the reason why. Any thoroughbred newspaper will respect your wishes. I have seen would-be smart corporation men who, when approached by a newspaper man with a query about any matter, would say there was nothing to it. There is nothing left for the reporter to do but publish the street rumors in the matter and he could be depended upon to do so."

Surprised by Squaws

A very pleasant surprise party was given last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Sargent, 814 South 3rd street, by the degree team of Iola Council No. 15, Degree of Pocahontas, of which Mrs. Sargent is captain, the occasion being Mr. Sargent's birthday. The house was filled with "squaws" and their husbands, and "500" was indulged in.

An elegant lunch was served about midnight. The prizes were won by Mrs. J. W. Stearns and Mr. Albers, the former getting the head prize and the latter the consolation prize. The guests left for their respective homes about one o'clock, after having spent a delightful evening, all saying that Mr. and Mrs. Sargent were royal entertainers.

Alsation Egg Women.

A favorite trick of Alsation market women is to place six or eight adolescent eggs in a small basket and to declare that those are all the absolutely fresh ones they have. The victim buys them, thinking that if the woman were dishonest she would have offered more "fresh eggs." Afterward the market woman takes six or more out of a larger basket which is carefully covered over.

OPEN LANDS IN MINNESOTA

20,000 to 30,000 Acres of "Forest Reserve Along Deer River and Cass Lake

FOR SALE AND SETTLEMENT

Lands have been Held for Market to Permit Indians to make Allotments Thereon

Washington, Feb. 12—Through the efforts of Congressman Miller, something like 20,000 to 30,000 acres of lands now embraced in the Minnesota forest reserve, will be taken from the reserve and put upon the market for sale and settlement.

The lands in question lie along the Deer River and Cass lake. These lands have been cut over, the timber removed and the proceeds of such sales turned in to the fund for the Chippewas.

The lands have been reported as "thoroughly withdrawn," in order to give Indians now holding allotments within the Minnesota forest reserve opportunity to move and take in lieu thereof timber lands in the adjacent territory. The Indians thus far have not availed themselves of the opportunity, and it has been decided to throw them open to white settlement and development.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Ethel Nelson received the high school credit for the stories sent to the Journal Junior last week.

Mrs. Dial has organized a Girls' Glee Club from the freshman class.

Mr. Sheakley, of Chicago, visited school Thursday forenoon.

The pupils of the freshman class sent Anna Murphy, who is ill with typhoid fever, a bouquet of carnations.

Maud Williams was absent from school last week.

The juniors have finished Hayne's speech and are now taking up Burke's speech on Conciliation.

The sophomores are now studying the Punic Wars.

"I think," replied a brilliant youth, "Tis idiotic acid."

The tutor frowned and said, "A-hum! Young friend have you been taking Some?"

We are glad to see Irene Cosgrove with us again. She started school last Monday.

Clyde Trent has been enrolled in the commercial arithmetic class.

Sam English has left school and is now working in the M. & I. offices. We wish him the best of success.

Those poor deluded freshmen down stairs, we let them stay in the assembly room for two whole days and then they were put back down stairs again.

To them that was "the most unkind cut of all." By next September, however, we think they will have acquired enough knowledge to entitle them to a seat in the assembly room.

The girls that remain in school at noon are not going to be cheated out a hot drink for their dinner. They now have a small stove and have hot cocoa for lunch.

Last Friday afternoon in the commercial room, the class was discussing what things were used for money.

Somebody said that in Africa, certain shells were used as the medium of exchange. "Skinny" Ribbel then asked, "Could a man go there and pick up shells and get rich quick?"

Somebody please answer "Skinny."

Mae Staples has been absent for a few days on account of sickness.

Next Wednesday, after supper, the regular meeting of the Debating Club will be held. The following question will be up for debate, "Resolved, That the U. S. should increase its navy."

Amey Rose has left school because her parents are going to move to Duluth. She will not go to school there this term but will probably enter next fall.

Do you like athletics of any kind? If so, boost for a high school gymnasium.

Saved at Death's Door

The door of death seemed ready to open for Murray W. Ayers, of Transi Bridge, N. Y., when his life was wonderfully saved. "I was in a dreadful condition," he writes, "my skin was almost yellow; eyes sunken; tongue coated; emaciated from losing 40 pounds, growing weaker daily. Virulent liver trouble pulling me down to death in spite of doctors. Then that matchless medicine—Electric Bitters, cured me. I regained the 40 pounds lost and now am well and strong." PUTTING NEW FACE ON HIM.

St. Louis Driver Having His Countenance Reconstructed.

When Thomas Herbert of St. Louis leaves the City hospital in that city he will have a brand new face. Half a dozen physicians and surgeons are now making it for him, and they promise such an improvement over the face that nature gave him that even his best girl will not know him.

While driving a wagon the other day he fell off, and a wheel passed over his face. The hospital physicians found thirty-three fractures in the bones in the face. In fixing him up it was necessary to remodel his face entirely along new lines. They are now wiring the bones so they will knit, re-adjusting the flesh so as to give the face symmetry and character.

ROOSEVELT FOR SOUTH POLE

Peary Hints at His Choice of Leader
For the Expedition.

Commander Robert E. Peary, discoverer of the north pole, referred to Colonel Theodore Roosevelt the other day in connection with the antarctic expedition which he has proposed in a way to indicate that he believed Colonel Roosevelt should be chosen to lead the venture which has for its object the discovery of the south pole. Commander Peary spoke of Colonel Roosevelt as being familiar with the situation confronting antarctic explorers and gave him credit for sympathy with the proposed movement. He declined to say positively whether he meant that he would like to see Colonel Roosevelt at the head of the expedition.

Commander Peary made it clear that he himself would not take part in the south pole hunt. He said that he could not interfere with any inference drawn as to whether Colonel Roosevelt should lead the movement and added that he was not authorized or entitled to select a leader and that all he could say was that he (Peary) would not lead it.

Commander Peary said also that now was the psychological moment for the proposed dash to the south pole. It was the only time, in fact, he said. He declared that all that was needed were $50,000 and the right man to lead and the southern pole was won. He referred to the vast amount of information in regard to the antarctic region that would be available for polar enthusiasts, much of it being information which had been collected by himself in his twenty-three years of north polar effort.

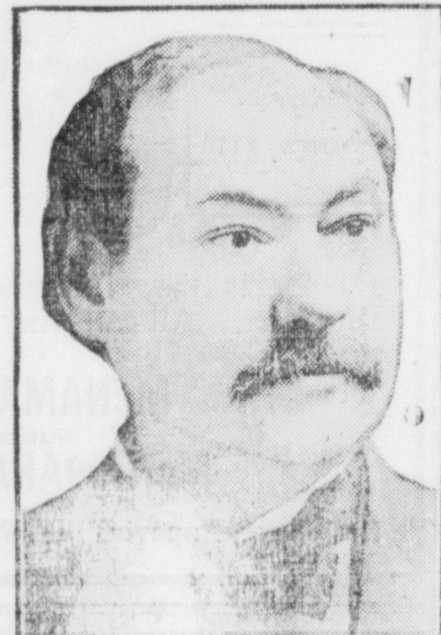

"It will be a crying shame for the United States and the American people to lose this magnificent opportunity which offers itself to them," he said. "A year from now our chances will be depreciated 50 per cent at least, if not more. Two years from now they will disappear entirely. With $50,000 ready the expedition can be put into the field by the beginning of next fall." Commander Peary said he had in his possession a letter from Captain Robert F. Scott, the British explorer, in which the latter said that the British antarctic explorers would do nothing to impede any American expedition, but really would welcome it.

World's Power, Says Dr. Wiley.

"No!" snarled Horrigan in elephantine sarcasm. "I'm going to spend the time playing pingpong and diabolo with the kids or taking a course of lessons in fancy knitting. Oh, buck up, can't you, and quit acting like a baby! Judge Newman's out there on the other side of the ballroom. Chase over and tell him to come here."

"Too confused to resent the boss' words, Gibbs meekly set out on his errand."

"That chap's got a streak of yellow a yard wide," commented Horrigan, gazing after him.

"Not as bad as that," replied Walnwright. "He's young and not used to reverses. You'll find he is game, all right, when it comes to a pinch. What did you want of Newman?"

"You'll see. Here he comes." "You wished to speak to me, Mr. Horrigan?" piped the little judge, hurrying into the foyer. "Good evening, Mr. Walnwright. What a success the ball is! My daughters have been dancing all evening. And Mrs. Newman is so—"

"Never mind Mrs. Newman just now," broke in Horrigan. "There's something important I want you to do for me."

He spoke, as he always did to Newman, in the manner of one addressing an incompetent servant. The judge, for all his pomposity, deemed it wise to ignore the politician's mode of address.

"I want you to hunt up Bennett," went on the boss, "and persuade him to stop fighting the Borough franchise bill. Tell him—"

"Oh," gasped the judge in genuine alarm. "I really don't think I could presume to—"

"Yes, you can," contradicted Horrigan. "You can do it, and, what's more, you will. You don't feel shy about asking favors of me, and when it's the other way around you've got to come down on—"

"I know! I know!" protested the frightened little judge soothingly. "But you don't understand how—"

"I got you the nomination last fall. Are you going to be a white man or a welcher?"

bear the burden of furnishing the world's power, superseding in importance coal and petroleum and their products. Although Dr. Wiley admitted that at present there was not a farm still in the United States for the making of denatured alcohol, except the one at the government experiment station, he said it was only a matter of time before the farmers of the country would take up the manufacture of alcohol from their waste products.

FEW DOSES END KIDNEY TROUBLE

Lame Back, Bladder Distress and
Other Results of Out-of-Order Kidneys Vanish

URINARY TROUBLE IS ENDED

Just a Few Doses Now Will Make the Entire Kidney and Urinary System Act Fine

Usually sufferers from backache, bladder trouble, or out-of-order kidneys, feel relieved after several doses of Pape's Diuretic.

Misery in the back, sides or loins, sick headache, inflamed or swollen eyelids, nervousness, rheumatism and darting pains, heart palpitations, dizziness, sleeplessness, listless, worn-out feeling, and other symptoms of inactive, sluggish kidneys simply vanish.

Uncontrollable urination (especially at night) smarting, discolored water and all bladder misery ends.

Feeling miserable and worried is needless because this unusual preparation goes at once to the out-of-order kidneys and bladder, distributing its cleansing, healing and vitalizing influence directly upon the organs and glands affected and completes the cure before you realize it. The moment you suspect any kidney or urinary derangement, or feel rheumatism, begin taking this harmless medicine with the knowledge that there is no other remedy at any price, any where else in the world, which will effect so thorough and prompt a cure as a fifty-cent treatment of Pape's Diuretic, which any druggist can supply.

Your physician, pharmacist, banker or any mercantile agency will tell you that Pape, Thompson & Pape, of Cincinnati, is a large and responsible medicine concern, thoroughly worthy of your confidence.

Only curative results can come from taking Pape's Diuretic, and a few days' treatment will make any one feel fine.

Accept only Pape's Diuretic—fifty-cent treatment—from any drug store—anywhere in the world.

"But I'm sure that Mrs. Newman!" "To blazes with Mrs. Newman! Now listen to me. Go to Bennett and do what you can to make him keep his hands off our Borough bill. If he's difficult offer him, in my name, the nomination for governor next year. If you can get him—well, there's a vacancy next year in the supreme court and—"

"I'll do what I can," assented the judge. "I'm sure you are right, Mr. Horrigan, even if your way of putting matters is just a little ragged. I'll see Mr. Bennett tonight and use all the persuasion in my power. I'm quite sure civic welfare will be best served if he will cease his unseemly opposition to the Borough bill. Thank you, Mr. Horrigan. I'm very sure that Mrs. Newman—"

"I'm sure, too," cut in Horrigan. "Now run on. We're busy. Remember, now—the very next supreme court vacancy—"

"Do you really think he has any influence with Bennett?" asked Walnwright as the judge vanished.

"Can't do any harm to try. They're neighbors in the country and in the same crowd in society and all that. If it falls, I've another card that's even stronger. Roberts ought to be here by now. You found out about those notes of his?"

"Yes; both of them. One for $7,000, one for $15,000. Both secured by mortgaging his factory. Roberts can't meet them. They've been extended twice, though the security must have been fairly good or the Sturtevant Trust company wouldn't have lent—"

"Williams said you wanted to speak to me, Mr. Horrigan," said a nervous voice from the door, and a pale, middle aged man came forward. He wore worry's stamp between his perplexed eyes, and care had bent his narrow shoulders.

"Yes, Good evening, Roberts," replied Horrigan cordially. "See you later, Walnwright!"

The financier took the hint and walked toward the ballroom, on his way out nearly colliding with Phelan, who was entering the foyer. At sight of Horrigan and Roberts together Phelan's eyebrows went upward, with a jerk.

PLANS OF THE WRIGHT BROTHERS

Aviators to Use Funds From Exhibitions In Tests.

WILBUR TELLS OF THEIR HOPES

Their Work, He Says, From Now on Will Be Experimental, Both in the Laboratory and in the Air—How They Expect to Improve Their Machine—To Encourage Experimenting.

Wilbur Wright, the aviator, does not smoke. He does like to fool a little time away with highly striped ice cream. He was enjoying his favorite dissipation surrounded by his counsel, H. A. Toulmin of Springfield, O., and Pliny W. Williamson and J. B. Smith of New York city. A reporter lingering near was waiting for the aviator to satisfy his taste before inquiring into his plans. The place was the Underwriters' club, New York, the time early afternoon of a recent day.

"An odd thing happened in our office a little while ago," said Mr. Williamson. "A man from Indiana unfolded a scheme in which he solicited our cooperation. He said he came to us because we are counsel for the Wright company and he was promoting something that he thought we would like to handle on that account. He called it the National Mausoleum company—something new in apartment burial houses was its strong feature—and—"

"The Wright company will not have the kind of byproducts that that chap needs to make his patent mausoleum pay," said Mr. Wright, enjoying the incident.

Planning For Experiments.
Continuing in a serious manner, the aviator said:

"The whole problem of aeronautics calls for the conservation of the means that will make further experimental work possible. If flying machines can be made absolutely safe there will be no difficulty about finding a market for them. To do that will require experimentation; to carry on experiments takes money. Where is the money to come from? Not from the sale of machines for a year or two.

"The profits derived from satisfying the public curiosity in all the big cities of the country will enable my brother and I to develop the art. Such money should be conserved for the development of flying machines, and it is our intention to make such use, to a considerable extent, of moneys received from such exhibitions."

He added that neither he nor his brother would personally exhibit the Wright machines. Several men trained for that purpose at his company's aviation field in Florida would give the public exhibitions.

Mr. Wright will select a testing field in Florida. Sheds will be immediately constructed, and when everything is complete several aeroplanes will be shipped from the Wright factory at Dayton, O., and the two brothers will devote their time between now and spring in giving instruction to those aviators who remain to be selected.

Their Hopes and Intentions.
"They say you will choke the art if your patents are upheld in the courts," was suggested.

"Let men who pretend to fear such a result work as we did down at Kitty Hawk," he replied. "I don't suppose there will be very many lawsuits brought by our company against men working for the development of the art. We never fussed with Herring or Curtiss while they were experimenting. We feel we have a right to proceed against a man who copies our machine and uses it for exhibition purposes or uses it for his personal pleasure to avoid having to buy a Wright machine. It is to our interest to encourage all experimental work. 'Choking the art' is furthest from our minds. If we can keep the other fellows who have infringed our patents from taking all the cream there'll be more butter made in the end."

He epitomized the hopes and intentions of himself and his brother by saying that the formation of the Wright company would enable them to do the experimental kind of flying they did at Kitty Hawk, N. C., before 1905.

"Our work from now on will be experimental—in the laboratory and in the air," he said. "Since 1905 we have been so busy catching trains, so to speak, that, in a broad sense, we were able then to do as well as we are able to do now. We think we can improve our machine now that we shall have the time. Increased safety, added carrying capacity and one or two things that I am not at liberty to speak of are in prospect."

Ready Money Club.
Chicago has a new organization that may soon have a counterpart in New York city if the receivers of Manhattan's car lines go on increasing the number of pay-as-you-enter cars. The Windy City, report has it, now has a Ready Money club, one of the rules of which is "mount the steps of the street car with a five cent piece grasped firmly in the hand, press the coin into the expectant palm of the conductor and pass rapidly into the car." Anybody who has had to stand in half a foot of muddy ice water at a New York corner while a dozen slow people had bills changed by the fare taker ought to be willing to promote such a philanthropic scheme in New York.

A Matter of Punctuation.
The following literary effusion is not ungrammatical. Its peculiarity lies in a lack of punctuation. Moreover, it contains the word "that" repeated five times in succession:

That man wrote that are correct to say that that that that man wrote is correct is incorrect these are correct is correct.

The paragraph should read: That man wrote, "That are correct." To say that that "that" that that man wrote is correct is incorrect. "These are correct" is correct.

Smokeless

Until science discovered a way to construct the Automatic Smokeless Device, and make it completely dependable, all oil heaters had one common great fault—smoke.

With the advent of the Automatic Smokeless Device, and its practical application to the

PERFECTION Oil Heater

(Equipped with Smokeless Device)
the smoke problem was successfully solved.

The Perfection Oil Heater is the only heater equipped with this which insures a steady, full-glowing heat, with the wick turned up as high as it will go, without a shred of smoke. Reverse the motion, turn the wick down—there's no odor. The smokeless device automatically locks and prevents the upward movement of the wick beyond the proper exposure. That is the secret. This splendid result gives leadership to the Perfection.

You may now have all the heat you want—when you want it—and where you want it—without the annoyance of smoke or odor. Brass front holds 4 quarts of oil, which permits a glowing heat for 9 hours. Brass wick tube—damper top—cool handle. Cleaned in a minute. The Perfection is beautifully finished in Nickel or Japan.
